Before running the given q3.sh file in the folder we have to move/copy this q3.sh file into the folder in which git repository is activated and which we need to know the type of objects and its information stored in it.